Ion. Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, in answer to a patoria. request to lecture before the Mercantile Library ociation of Boston:

Association of Boston:

ONLY, near Onancock, Va., Nov. 11, 1855.

GENTLEMEN: Yours of the 2d instant was awaiting my arrival at home yesterday, from a temporary absence at Washington City.

I gratefully acknowledge the compliment of your invitation to deliver one of a course of lectures, during the present winter, before the Mercantile Library Association of Boston.

I am well assured of the highly respectable character and of the laudable objects of your literary association, and nobody of the kind could have been more honored than you have been by the illustrious orators and statesmen who have shed upon your lectures the light of their great minds. I have no doubt, too, of the "cordial welcome" I would receive from "very many" of your hospitable citizens; but it is not in my power, gentlemen, to accept your invitation. The situation of my private affairs, and the duty of preparing, for months to come, for new scenes of public service, will engrow all of the same kinds from many more and account my time and attention the whole of the coming winter. I have been compelled to decline every call of the same kinds from many more acceptance. compt your invitation. The situation of my private affairs, and the duty of preparing, for months to eame, for new scenes of public service, will engross all my time and attention the whole of the coming winter. I have been compelled to decline every call of the same kind from many quarters in my own State, and other States besides yours.

I sincerely regret this, the more, because I have never yet set my foot on the beloved soil of that portion of my country called New England. This has not been owing to any antagonism on my part towards that favored section. Massachusetts, ospecially, I have been taught to vonerate and cherish as the elder sister of Virginia. When I reflect upon their attitudes and relations in the darkness and gloom of the night of Revolution; when I listen to their hails, sister to sister—Virginia to Massachusetts, Massachusetts to Virginia in the diamental many my part the first with the grave and their grave and their guns conveyed to Nicolaieff, for the strengthening of which the most prodigious efforts are being made on all sides. The five hunder guns beautiful to the Black Sea fleet, who performed, of late, such a conspicuous part in the siege of Sevastopol. These men, on their arrival at Nicolaieff, were received with the greatest possible enthusiasm. The Empore him seif addressed them in a speech, which concluded as follows: "By your efforts alone was Sevastopol made to be what it was—the graveyard of the bloom of Europe's best addiers, the terror of all our enemies! Show to the world that you alone are able to form a second Sevastopol out of a small fishing village!" "We are thine, thin till death," was the reply of the stout Russian seamen, who conducted the Emperor up to the gate of his residence.

The wife of the approach of Kinhur was I watch the fires kindling on the heights of Boston, and see Virginia going forth across the rivers and over the land, by the sea, leading her best beloved son by the hand, dripping blood and tears at every step there and back, leaving him there on post to guard your very city, and make the opperssors evacuate it!—and when I contrast this picture with the present state of things in our confederacy, which makes you assure me "that the feelings of the people of Massachusetts towards my State are not those of antagonism." I gush forth in anguish, and ask: Why a necessity for such assurance? Why any antagonism between such assurance? Why any antagonism between these, the devoted patriot States of Hancock and Washington? May God in his mercy and in love guide them, as of yore! May they ever be coment-ed in union by the blood of the Revolution! And whonever another night of gloom and triumph shall come, may they hail and cheer each other on

THE CLAIM FOR EXTRA SERVICES OF THE LATE late Secretary of Logation at Paris, has given notice of his intention to ask Congress for the extra pay of a Charge for the period of Mr. Mason's incompetency to act as Minister, from ill health, relying on the appropriation made to Mr. Sandford, his predecessor, while acting as Charge after the resignation of Mr. Mason's predecessor, and previous to the latter's appointment. Upon this point the Washington Star, of the 23d, says:

"Breathes there a man with soul so dead,

This body commences its session on Monday the House. Each party wants the advantage of the nation as worthy and gallant men-estimable the North and pro-slavery men from the South, a Speaker and Clerk. The large majority are Americans and patriots, without stain or blemish. all met on the same platform, spoke on the same erally, the most violent anti-slavery men were of the South became more intense in the excitement of the canvass. The result was, the election of a majority of uncompromising anti-slavery

There are none North, except the old line Dem ocrats, few and far between, who are not violently opposed to the Nebraska bill, and resolved that no State formed out of the Territory embraced in that bill shall be admitted into the Union with a Constitution recognizing slavery. The Democrats North and South are uncompromising against the whole Abolition movement. How the Know-Nothings South will be found remains to be seen. They profess to be very Southern, but their affiliation with their Northern allies, the excuses they make for them, and their absurd claims as to the nationality of such men as Gardner and the New York Know-Nothings, show that they cannot be relied on as uncompromising on behalf of the South. Their affiliation in this city, at a public mass meeting, with two notorious Freesoilers, is exceedingly suspicious.

The telegraphic dispatches, moreover, give out will unite upon the general scheme of opposition to the Democratic party. Black Republicans, and equally dark colored Know-Nothings in the free States, and probably the Samites of the South, will be found in happy fellowship, joined together by the cohesive power of public plunder.

The precise number of Democrats in the House we do not know, but it does not exceed eighty. It will be a compact body, however, with no compromises to make. Its creed, as far as the only real issue now is concerned, is, that the Kansas-Nebraska bill shall stand, and any State hereafter shall come into the Union with or without slavery, as the people may choose. The telegraph furnishes us a lie, as usual, in reporting that some Democrats intend to bolt if a caucus makes this policy a test. The test has already been made; no Democrat was elected on any other issue. He who wishes to ignore the test now, will have notice has mistaken his party.

The Democratic party will nominate their candidate for Speaker, and vote for him, and for no one else. They will promptly refuse to support any Freesoiler or Abolitionist, who would rend dently calculated on the aid of the Lord Chancelthis Union assunder, or the conspirators who lor. They intend keeping coal depots at and religion. The former course is necessary preserve the Union; the latter to make it worth

The probabilities are, that the opposition will unite in the organization of the House; but if not, it may remain unorganized. The old Democratic is no necessity for it; quite as well for the country hands of Freesoilers and Abolitionists. And it is don't wish the Knew-Nothings, personally, any just as well to have the contest now. If the people North and South support a House with such a justice and truth will not be more likely to look with more complexion it is idle to cherish hopes of the future, with more complexence upon Know-Nothing hyand the truth had just as well come out now as at

It has been well said, that the sum of all true religion consists in the love of God and our neighbor. Christianity teaches men to "love their enemies" and to "do good to those who despitefully use them." But Know-Nothings, breaking through all the admonitions and restraints of that very religion which they profess to respect and cherish, says-"Love your friends (your party) and hate your enemies" (your political opponents). These teachings and doctrines are carried out in blood and slaughter with an utter disregard of consequences. And then, forsooth, we have lessons on morality and relivery significant hints that the different factions gion from their pious organs, and are gravely admonished not to forget that there is a God above, a reverence for whom alone, we are told can save a nation from anarchy and disorder.

With what the editor of the Journal says, in his sermon on Thanksgiving day, in reference te cherishing a sense of reliance on a higher power, we fully agree. But when the apologists and defenders of the Know-Nothing mobs that have disgraced this and other cities, appear so solicitous lest the nation should forget God, we are reminded of an anecdote concerning the Lord Chancellor Thurlow and Wilkes, of the Commons. As our recollection serves us, during the latter part of the reign of George III .- when the King's health and faculties were waning and the Regency question was being mooted in Parliament-the Lord Chancellor was ardent in professions of devotion to the King, and at the same time was wont to keep in with the Regency party that his room is better than his company; that he by privately seconding their views. As the state of his Majesty's health would vacillate, so would Thurlow's fidelity to his cause. At one time the Regency party were confident of succeeding in their purpose, and, from private conferences, confiwas about to take place with him, and that he would probably soon recover his faculties, came into Parliament, very unexpectedly to the Regency party, with a speech full of fidelity and devotion to his Majesty's cause. His cool duplicity astonished his secret allies not a little. In the course of this speech, in his own peculiarly solemn and Ah, but the House must be organized. No; there imposing manner, he said—"If I ever forget my sovereign, may my God forget me." Whereupon if such a body is never organized; better if it Wiikes, who was seated near him, said-"Forget never met. Never before was that body in the you! No; he'll see you d-d first." Now we harm, but we incline to believe that the God of

We hope the editor of the Journal will revolve the subject matter of his article on Thanksgiving day, hereafter, more seriously in his mind, and endeavor to profit from it; and when elections are about to come off in this city, in future, that he right, and compromise with no faction for spoils. will remember the lesson he has taught others, viz., that "there is a God," and that that God has declared, in his revealed Word, that "they that take the sword shall perish by the sword," and that "the bloody and deceitful man shall not live

OUR RAILROAD. - A proposition having bee submitted some time past to the city of Louisville, to subscribe the sum of $200,000 to the capital stock of the Lexington and Big Sandy Railroad, in view of the vast importance the road would be to Louisville, could there be an unbroken com munication between the mouth of Big Sandy and Louisville, by this road, the Lexington and Frank-fort, and the Louisville and Frankfort road; said proposition was not permitted to go before the people, for them to vote upon, by the authorities of that city. This being the case, the propriety of opening a direct communication with some other city either in this or out of this State, has become a matter of serious consideration and advisemen with the railroad company, as well as the friend of the road. The whole matter will undoubtedly ome up at the next meeting of the Board of Di-rectors, and be finally disposed of. While we would regret very much to see the immonse pro-duction and trade of the vast region of rich coun-try through which this road runs, go to any other y than Louisville, which we firmly believe, with Wise, one of the Directors, would have bene fitted her more in one year than the subscription asked for by the railroad company, we, at the san time, are decidedly of the opinion that if Louisvil eels she can do without us, we can very well de without her, and should have no objection what ver to take aid from any other quarter.

a vial was found, which still contained a small portion of laudanum.

"The body was placed in a rough pine coffin and taken to the stable of the undertaking establishment in Fifth-street. Alderman George Moore held an inquest in the case on Saturday evening.

"The deceased had evidently been in a respectable position in society. She was very good looking, and had an air of gentility about her. Sha appeared to have been about seventeen years of age. She was rather under the medium height robust. She had dark-brown hair, which wa ust. She had dark-brown hair, which wa ather long. She wore a dark-striped muslin-de-aine dress, with lace undersleeves, and all her othing was of a neat and even elegant descri tion. There were no marks upon the clothing by which the person of the unfortunate young wome could be identified. The only ornamental article about her were her hair bracelets on her wrist mounted with jet. The shawl found on the mu woolen, stone-colored, with a brown border the bonnet of the deceased was not recovered Herfriends reside in the neigh porhood of Fairmount. The cause of the rash ac is not positively known; but it is said that the sperate girl had been engaged to be married a faithless one, who broke his plighted troth. She exhibited an extraordidary determination to put an end to her existence—first swallowing a deadly the cold, dark waters of the Delaware."

Good News for the Democracy-Sam is not Dead! Man is a destructive animal, and would soon ine away, or, like the snake, would sting himself o death if he did not have something upon which be exercise his destructiveness. The bump of detructiveness in the Democracy is very large, if we nay judge from the number of parties it has demay judge from the number of parties it has destroyed. Its occupation among other good things was, for a number of years, to vent its destructiveness upon the Whig party. The latter bore it a long time, but human nature cannot stand every thing, and it at last sunk under the chastening hand. The Democracy, alarmed at the effects of its frequent castigations, began to fear that "Othello's occupation's gone," and its friends feared it would turn the lash upon itself, when, to their unspeakable delight, Samuel, the ever enduring Samuel, bared his back for the thong. It was applied with a hearty good will; Old Virginia gave him some twelve or fifteen thousand blows, Tennessee pitched in too, and gave him a few thousand, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, and Missouri pitched in, and poor Samuel was awfully belabored, and left for dead, and for charity we could do no less than bury him. Thus again has just arrived from New York, with her Private Female Preventive Medicines, for married ladies and those contemplating marriage, and will be happy to we their visits at No. 517 Walnut street, between First and Second. Necessaries of Life.

SPECIAL NOTICES. Madame Densmore

Flour, Whisky, and Tobacco have long been regarded the necessaries of life—but it is a mistake. We can't buy Flour—that is, Daguerreotypists can 't—for it is too dear; the temperance men wont let us drink Whisky, and the Tobacco crop is a failure. What we can't get it and the Tobacco crop is a failure. What we can't get it N. B. Second-hand Pianos taken in exchange for new 1025 out is not a necessary. The proverb, then, is a false-hood. But one of HARRIS'S Dagurreotypes-bright, sparkling, rich, beld, and clear—which we can get and cannot do without—that is a necessary of life. no23

Our Photographs Defy all Competition. And if any one thinks there is humbug in the assertion m call at our Rooms and examine the specimens let them eall at our Rooms and examine the specimens on exhibition, and they will be fully satisfied that what we say is correct. The process by which our Photo graph Pictures are made and colored is different from that of other operators, and for this reason we can guarantee finer Portraits than can be had elsewhere.

The above resolutions were subsequently adopted by the Senate.

On the 16th inst., the Committee on Internal Imberola is through their Chairman, Mr. Brown, THE NATURAL ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA,

The following certificate, from one of the most ce brated chemists in the United States, has been obtain and a copy of it is attached to every bottle:

NEW YORK, June 11. 1855.

"I have made a chemical examination of Rhodes, Fever and Ague Cure, or Antidote to Malaria, and have tested it for Arsenic, Mercury, Quinine, and Strychnine, but have not found a particle of either in it, nor have I found any substance in its composition that would prove injurious to the constitution.

"JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist."

It is a stubborn feat, therefore, that this Remean is

It is a stubborn fact, therefore, that this Remedy is destined not only to relieve the human family from malarious diseases, but to do an equally good work by preventing the taking of other medicines which do harm. The entire absence of any baneful ingredient makes this Remedy, not more valuable as a Cure, than it is as a preventive.

WAVELAND, IND., Sept. 2, 1855.

MR. J. A. RHODES:—Please express me four dozen of your Fever and Ague Cure—send it immediately, as 1 am nearly out. It has given satisfaction.

Yourstruly,

R. W. GAMBLE.

PINE RUN, MICH., July 21, 1855.

DR. J. A. RHODES.—Dear Sir:—Your Cure for the Fever and Ague has thus far performed wonders. It has not failed in one instance to perform a quick and permanent cure. Some who have been troubled with the distressing disease have been extract. CURED by using only one bottle of the CURE. Please send us immediately four dozen, as we have but three bottles remaining. Truly yours,

LATHROP & MCLEAN.

NEW AND SINGULARLY SUCcessful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases all converses, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout. Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Indianmations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints, &c., &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a purgative medicine is not more or less required, and much sickness and suffering might be prevented if a harmless but effectual Gathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides, it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might have been avoided by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of colds, feverish symptoms, and bilious derangements. They all tend to be done or produce the deep scated and formidable distable become or produce the deep scated and formidable distable become of produce the deep scated and formidable distable of the land. Hence, a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consumnate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by physicians, professors, and patients, has shown results surpassing anything hitherto known of any medicine. Oures have been effected beyond belief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.

Among the many eminent gentlemen who havetestitied in favor of these Pills we may mention:

Dr. A. A. HAYES, Analytical Chemist, of Boston, and State Assayer of Massachusetts, whose high professional character is indorsed by the

HIS GREAT WORK OF INTER nal improvement (379 miles from Wheeling Baltimore, and 403 to Washington,) was opened to the Ohio river in January, 1863, and has now been full tested and approved, both as a freight and passenge route. This read is located in a romantic country, is solidly constructed, fully equipped, and carefully managed, and is thus rendered an attractive as well as a safe line for travelers. The late completion of the Central Ohio Road, from Columbus to the Ohio river near Wheeling, addis greatly to the importance of the
